

In the Real Estate Sales Game, How Do You Differentiate Yourself?

If you are a real estate agent, you face many challenges. One of them is differentiating your services while controlling costs.

- Cut Your Marketing Costs
- Make Your Services Stand Out
- Use the latest Mobile Phone Technology to Generate Leads

With rising costs and competition from other agents, it's important to make every marketing dollar count. How would you like to gain more listings by standing out, and generate more quality leads, with less pain and a lower cost-per-lead than you ever have?

With our Real Estate SMS Marketing System you can...

- Give your prospective buyer an interactive experience with their mobile phone at curbside and provide information on the home they are interested in immediately
- Send them directly to a dedicated web page or MLS listing
- Receive an immediate alert via text message and email with the MLS number and the prospect's cell number in it

Say goodbye to...

- Flyers to print and place in holders
- Empty flyer boxes or wet flyers and disappointed prospects
- Missed opportunities to speak with prospects at the precise moment they are engaging with your listing

Now you can...

- Differentiate your service with home sellers via mobile marketing
- Capture more prospects (and leads) through their cell phones
- Close more deals
- Be more efficient with your marketing
